Grants for the Arts: A Continuing Legacy of Support for San Francisco Arts and Culture

Dear Friends,

San Francisco has a long history as a world-class center for arts and culture. However, maintaining such a high level of artistic achievement, particularly in this time of rapid social transformation, requires a continued investment in the community that creates our diverse and dynamic arts scene. Grants for the Arts has been providing such investment for 53 years, making it one of the nation's oldest civic-funded arts patrons. As our city has continued to grow and change, Grants for the Arts has given essential support to hundreds of San Francisco-based arts organizations. In the coming decades, we look forward to their continued excellence in the cultivation of the deep and varied artistic resources that help make San Francisco both a top destination for visitors, and a wonderful place to live.

Grants for the Arts Programs

Annual Grants to San Francisco Arts Organizations

The foremost goal of Grants for the Arts (GFTA) is to provide a stable, dependable base of support for the City's arts and cultural organizations that meet its funding criteria. In fulfilling its mission of "promoting the City through support of the arts," GFTA annually funds nonprofit arts and cultural organizations that help promote San Francisco as a destination for regional, national and international visitors. Grants for the Arts is committed to supporting the broadest spectrum of the San Francisco arts community.

GFTA's relationship with the City's nonprofit groups is quite unique in terms of national municipal support of the arts. This is because funding is not linked to specific projects or productions. Instead, the annual grant program is designed to provide a consistent source of funds for general operating expenses. Grants for the Arts funding levels are determined on a progressive basis, with smaller budget organizations receiving a larger percentage of their budgets and larger groups a smaller percentage from the Fund. San Francisco's largest cultural institutions are given important sustaining funds in recognition of their world-renowned artistic contributions and economic importance to the City. The majority of the funds (nearly 70%) goes to the small and midsize organizations of all disciplines and cultures.

On the following pages is the list of nonprofit arts and cultural organizations that received Grants for the Arts annual support for the 2014/2015 Fiscal Year. New groups are demarcated in red.

Arts and Tourism

A Partnership with the San Francisco Convention and Visitors Bureau

Grants for the Arts established the first Arts and Tourism Program (A&T) in the United States in 1989 with the goal of promoting San Francisco as a cultural destination to travel industry professionals, including tour wholesalers, travel agents, convention planners and others. In 1991, the San Francisco Convention and Visitors Bureau (SFCVB) became the first agency to incorporate an Arts and Tourism office as a crucial part of its marketing to visitors and business travelers. Since then, the Arts and Tourism program has worked to increase visitor attendance at arts events by designing programs that highlight all the facets of San Francisco's thriving cultural community. Arts and Tourism also works closely with local arts and cultural organizations, informing them how to best use the services offered by the SFCVB. One of the services offered has been a series of free education PR seminars created especially for the arts community.

San Francisco Arts Monthly

A project of Grants for the Arts, San Francisco Arts Monthly is an outreach publication to San Francisco visitors. It is provided free to hotel guests and concierges and is distributed in theater lobbies, Moscone Center, restaurants and cafes, bookstores and other targeted locations in San Francisco. According to a study by Dance USA, commissioned by the Bay Area foundation community:

"Arts Monthly has been a huge success in building audiences. This publication, started by Grants for the Arts as a tool for concierges, lists arts events for each month. When editors arranged to insert the publication in the New York Times in the first Sunday of each month artists started advertising in it, the perception was that the artists were in the New York Times. The cost of producing it is relatively low. And it raised the visibility and credibility of dance."

SF/Arts.org

How do artists and audiences take advantage of Web technology and the Internet to promote the arts in San Francisco? This has been the topic of discussion by Grants for the Arts and its constituent groups for a number of years. As part of GFTA's mandate, linking its activities to attract visitors to San Francisco, GFTA led the way in creating a searchable, clutter-free database of San Francisco arts offerings on the web with the 2001 launch of SFArts.org. This online calendar is a widespread and indispensable tool for anyone who is interested in the arts in San Francisco. Organizations that receive GFTA support are listed on the site. Each group is invited to create a reciprocal link to SFArts.org so that visitors can go directly to an arts group's website and get more details about program offerings. Thousands of promotional cards that feature the web addresses are distributed through the San Francisco Convention and Visitors Bureau, on-site at various locations in San Francisco, as well as online to individuals and groups interested in visiting the City. SFArts.org bookmarks are also placed at the California State Fair, in theater lobbies, bookshops and cafes, or stuffed into programs and newsletters. Radio and print ads, BART signs and more have promoted the site, which is now ranked No. 1 on most of the country's top search engines.

Other Programs

The Neighborhood Arts Collaborative is a joint project of Grants for the Arts/San Francisco Hotel Tax Fund, the San Francisco Arts Commission, the Mayor’s Community Challenge Grant Program, the Mayor’s Office of Neighborhood Services, the Mayor’s Office of Economic and Work Force Development, the Neighborhood Empowerment Network and the Arts & Tourism Program of the San Francisco Travel Association.

The program was developed to provide funding for collaborative arts activities that take place in proximity to each other within a specific geographic boundary. This multi-agency effort will support community arts activities within some of San Francisco’s diverse neighborhoods to promote the arts, businesses, schools, social service and other nonprofits located in close proximity, and to encourage the development of mutually beneficial relationships among community stakeholders. For fiscal year 2014/2015, the target neighborhoods were:

- Bayview
- Central Market
- Chinatown
- Lower 24th/Mission
- North beach
- OMI

Voluntary Arts Contribution Fund

Sometimes described as “the little grants that make a big difference,” the Voluntary Arts Contribution Fund was established in 1984. An innovative program that allows San Francisco property taxpayers and others to add a tax-deductible contribution to their biannual tax payments, it makes small grants to arts organizations for capital improvements, facilities maintenance and equipment acquisition.

The next round of VACF grants will be in Fiscal Year 2015/2016. For more information, visit our website.
